

the sentiments of the government of the United States, that it is a principle of American policy to have our national problems always given a fair examination, and settled without foreign interference. We understand that, if such a result has been attained, we shall have created a more favorable atmosphere in international politics in America.

As we are about to leave, we wish you to take home the impression that in undertaking this work of peace we sought to proceed along practical lines, and attempt to do only that which it was within our powers to do. We were not working against the impossible. And, in view of this result, we stand ready at any time to devote our efforts to any other work of a similar character, and I know that you will be ready to support us, and that we may count on the same smiling presence, attention and consideration which it has always been our fortune to receive from you heretofore on this memorable occasion.

NO FURTHER NEED OF MEETINGS NOW

The mediators late to-night delivered an identical note to the American and Huerta delegates, declaring that, inasmuch as General Carranza had asked for more time in which to consider the question of sending delegates to an informal conference for the solution of Mexico's internal problems, there was no further need of meetings here.

The note sets forth that the international controversy between the United States and Mexico has been adjusted, and that the mediators have chosen a Provisional President.

When the Constitutionalists are ready to send delegates, the note says, the work of mediation will be resumed. Until then there will be an indefinite suspension of mediation.

CONFERENCE AT TORREON TO SETTLE DIFFERENCES

El Paso, Tex., July 1.—The conference designed to settle differences between Carranza and Villa will be completed entirely by the morning. The representatives of Carranza, Central and Western military zones soon will meet probably at Torreon to discuss the conditions which menace the Constitutional revolution.

Persons coming from Monterrey and Saltillo said the proposed conference resulted from an exchange of telegrams between Carranza and General Gonzalez, Carranza's Eastern divisional commander. Villa asked Gonzalez for a supply of coal to operate railroads for movements incident to the attack on Aguas Calientes. Gonzalez, he declared, refused to supply coal, and offered Carranza no assistance until the strained relations had been adjusted.

It is reported General Alvaro Obregon, in charge of the Western zone, also will send delegates to the conference. Gonzalez and Obregon supposedly are firm adherents of Carranza in his present embroilment with Villa.

The trouble in procuring ammunition with the double embargo by the United States border patrol and the Carranza officials to the East probably will prevent the proposed continuing on his campaign until his understanding with Carranza is adjusted.

WILSON THINKS MEXICAN SITUATION FAVORABLE

Washington, July 1.—Suspension of mediation conferences at Niagara Falls today found the President in a good mood. The administration pleased with what the South American mediators have accomplished in dealing with the differences between the United States and Mexico, and hopeful that the continuing Mexican factions soon will have representatives conferring to settle upon a definite plan for composing the internal troubles of their country.

Nearly all the day, and until late to-night agents of the Constitutionalists here, were endeavoring vainly to get into communication with General Carranza. They sought news of the Carranza officials, and of the Carranza generals over the proposed meeting with Huerta delegates to discuss plans for a provisional government.

President Wilson authorized the statement that the Mexican situation was as favorable as it could be, pending an agreement between the warring factions.

ANXIOUS TO PREVENT ESCAPE OF HUERTA

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Vera Cruz, July 1.—General Carranza today instructed his Vera Cruz representative, Heriberto Jara, to use every possible means to prevent the escape of Huerta. Jara, who today confirmed the report from Tampico that the rebels have sent a body of picked men in disguise to Mexico City for the purpose not only of preventing Huerta's escape, but also to suggest the dictator from assassination.

Two of these men have obtained employment as palace guards, and others have enlisted in General Blanes's regiment, the nucleus of the brigade de los supremos poderes. Huerta's chief reliance.

Senior Jara says the rebels wish, above all things, to prevent the escape of Huerta.

"We wish to try him legally," he said. "If he escapes, we will demand his return as an embezzler, defaulter and murderer. I believe the American people will support the demand that Huerta be not classed as a political offender."

"We are prepared to prove that Huerta has stolen 20,000,000 pesos. Some of these funds are deposited in New York banks. Robert Zubizarra is tracing the accounts there."

General Jesus Carranza, now at Tampico, is quoted as saying that a dozen offers to kill Huerta have been made to his brother, Venustiano, all of which have been rejected.

"We are determined that Victoriano Huerta shall go to the gallows," said Carranza.

DUBOIS ON PROPOSED TREATY WITH COLOMBIA

Minister Under Taft Administration Takes Issue With Views Expressed by Roosevelt.

GIVES REASONS FOR SUPPORT

Disputes Claim That Document Is a Blackmailing Agreement, and Thinks That Claims Against This Nation Justify Indemnification.

Hallstead, Pa., July 1.—In a statement issued here to-night dealing with the proposed Colombia treaty, James T. Dubois, who was United States Minister to Colombia under the Taft administration, takes issue with the views recently expressed by Colonel Roosevelt, and explains his own reasons for supporting the treaty. Regarding his differences with Colonel Roosevelt on this subject, Mr. Dubois expresses regret at opposing "a great leader whose fortune I devotedly followed for ten years," and states that no man will tolerate the thought that any of Colonel Roosevelt's acts was inspired by tainted motives, but no man is always right.

Negotiations for a treaty during the Taft administration failed, he says, because his instructions, out of excessive care not to impugn the motives of President Roosevelt in "taking" Panama, failed to give Colombia sufficient justice. The pending treaty, he believes, should be heartily approved by the American people.

Taking issue with Colonel Roosevelt regarding the character of the public men in Colombia, Mr. Dubois declares that the country is not a "blackmailing agreement," but a "blackmailing agreement," and that the public men of other countries in intelligence and respectability, instead of being "blackmailers and bandits," are "men of high character."

Quoting Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that the people of Panama were a unit in demanding the revolution, he says "a handful of men, who were to be the beneficiaries of the revolution, conceived the idea of the hundredth part of the inhabitants of the isthmus knew of the revolt until an American officer, in the uniform of the United States Army, raised the flag of the new republic."

The claim made by Colonel Roosevelt that the Colombian treaty is a blackmailing agreement, is dealt with by Mr. Dubois in his interpretation of the document.

"While negotiating for a treaty, I made the Colombian authorities understand that under no circumstances would the United States apologize to any nation for a political act—that was our unwritten law, that never had been and never would be broken. In purely informal conversations, I suggested that a chivalrous expression of regret that our friendship had in any way been marred, might later be embodied in the treaty as a balm for the wounded feelings of a once friendly nation, which had been humiliated by the world, whose credit had been destroyed in foreign countries by our borrowing ability had been annihilated, and whose persistent appeals for arbitration had been ignored."

The opposition to this feature, on the ground that it is an apology, is not just, and is not in the true interests of the United States.

CLAIMS OF COLOMBIA SHOULD BE MET BY U. S.

Dealing directly with the claims of the treaty, providing a payment to Colombia, which Colonel Roosevelt attacked as blackmail, Mr. Dubois describes the claims of Colombia for the lost railway, and the claims of the trans-isthmian railroad company for the reversionary rights in the Panama Railroad and Panama's portion in the Colombian national debt, all of which, he says, should be met by the United States.

Though Colonel Roosevelt asserts that all of the civil rights, titles and monetary interests of Colombia passed to the United States by the act of separation, Mr. Dubois declares that these rights had been virtually recognized by the United States.

Colonel Roosevelt's statement that "Colombia," he says, "by an agreement concluded in 1880, contracted a debt of $5,000,000 with the railway company amortizable in twenty-nine years by the company's $250,000 annual payments. The amortization had actually proceeded, and the debt would have been liquidated in 1909. But, as the United States prevented by physical force, the suppression of the insurrection on the isthmus by Colombia, six years before the debt could be entirely paid, the United States attempted to exact the six missing installments of the amortization, they recognized Colombia's right of ownership."

organized by the Roosevelt administration itself.

"Colombia," he says, "by an agreement concluded in 1880, contracted a debt of $5,000,000 with the railway company amortizable in twenty-nine years by the company's $250,000 annual payments. But, as the United States prevented by physical force, the suppression of the insurrection on the isthmus by Colombia, six years before the debt could be entirely paid, the United States attempted to exact the six missing installments of the amortization, they recognized Colombia's right of ownership."

"These and other material claims of Colombia," says Mr. Dubois, "justify the indemnification article of the treaty, to say nothing of the tremendous territorial loss and humiliation that Colombia has sustained."

ENDS LONG SERVICE.

For Nearly Half-Century Captain Earnest Served Old Dominion.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., July 1.—It is seldom that a man remains in one employ nearly half a century, yet that is the record of Captain Charles A. Earnest of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, today retired from active duty as quartermaster, after an unbroken service with it of forty-six years and three months. The position he is vacating is that of Virginia division superintendent, with office in Norfolk, his retirement being at his request and due to the condition of his health.

Captain Earnest is a native of Richmond, and entered the employ of the Old Dominion Company in March, 1868, as quartermaster of the steamer Saratoga, having had seven years' experience in sailing ships in foreign trade prior to that time. He passed through the various grades of the Old Dominion Company's service, quartermaster, second mate, mate and master, having commanded their steamer Hatteras years ago.

In 1874 the company sent him to Norfolk to take charge of the loading and unloading of their steamers since which time he has served as its wharf superintendent and superintendent of its Virginia division. He retires after a record of the very highest efficiency, being a man of large executive ability, and he carries with him into his retirement the good will and very best wishes of all the officers of the Old Dominion Company and of his associates in the service of that line.

After coming to Norfolk in 1874 he lived in this city two years, but since his marriage, in 1876, he has resided in Portsmouth, in which city he will continue his residence. He is sixty-seven years of age. Captain Earnest is well known in both communities here, and his many friends will wish him the utmost enjoyment of a well-earned rest. It is not yet known who will succeed to his duties with the Old Dominion Company.

The luncheon was served by the women of the Eastern Star of Marysville. There were a number of Masons from other lodges in attendance upon the ceremonies.

"MOVIE" ACTORS DROWNED

Two Lose Lives While Producing New Picture Film.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Colson City, Col., July 1.—Miss Grace McHugh, leading lady of the Colorado Motion Picture Company, and Owen Carter, assistant camera man, were drowned in the Arkansas River to-day. The company was engaged in producing a new picture, "Across the Border," based on Mexican events. Miss McHugh was fording the river on horseback. In midstream she became nervous at the swiftness of the water and checked the horse. The animal was forced under water and Miss McHugh was thrown into the stream. Carter leaped into the river and swam to her assistance. He reached her safely, and guided her to a small sand bar, on which both emerged, apparently safe. When members of the company reached the sand bar to remove the couple, both had disappeared. Miss McHugh's body was seen floating in the river later, but it could not be reached.

NEW AMBULANCE SURGEON HAS VARIETY OF CALLS

Dr. J. R. Gorman Treats Variety of Accidents in Almost Every Section of City.

Dr. J. R. Gorman spent his first day on the city ambulance yesterday, and due to that fact, spent one of the busiest days of his professional life. The doctor was called on to treat accident victims in almost every section of the city, and the variety furnished him was all that a seeker after experience could desire.

Two of his most important calls were from the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works, on Belle Isle, where the workmen had been injured while at Tredegar iron works. A deep piece of steel while "hitting the jumper," a piece of the metal flying off and inflicting a deep but not serious wound. He was treated and left at the iron works. Andrew Kavies, of South Richmond was cut over the eye by a chisel, and suffered a severe wound. He was also treated and left.

E. J. Browning, of 225 Taylor Street, fell from a platform while working in the rear of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon, and suffered a fractured elbow. After being treated he was able to go to his home unaccompanied.

One of the most severe cases which Dr. Gorman was called upon to treat was that of Preston Perkins, of 817-A Howe Street, who was struck on the fleshy part of his leg by a piece of red-hot steel while at work at the Tredegar iron works. A deep and broad burn resulted, and gave the man much pain before the surgeon arrived and treated him.

REFUSED TO MOVE ON.

George Christian and Sidney Wilbur were arrested last night by Police Sergeant Waymack and Patrolman Moore, charged with refusing to move when ordered to do so by the police.

Howard Meeks, colored, was arrested on a similar charge by Patrolman Kidd.

Lord Nelson—Old England's Great Naval Hero

WITHOUT Horatio Nelson, England would have been invaded and perhaps conquered by Napoleon. At Trafalgar he smashed forever the French Emperor's hope of creating a naval power. Never was man more idolized and beloved—not only by all of England's people who breathlessly awaited news of his telling victories, but by every man of his fleet. A true Anglo-Saxon, he detested tyrannous powers and legislative usurpations of every kind. He was particularly opposed to prohibitive enactments governing the diet of his men, who, like him, enjoyed Barley-Malt brews, even as their fathers did for countless generations before. Good beer, according to Lord Nelson, has ever been good food. Budweiser Beer for 57 years has been the product of an institution holding the highest ideals known to the ancient art of brewing. The output, due to Quality and Purity, has increased every year until 7,500 men are daily required to keep pace with the public demand. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.
